

THE CLIMAX

RICHMOND, MADISON COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20, 1889.

VOLUME II.

NUMBER 40.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. A. WILKE SMITH
Dental Surgeon

PRACTICE LIMITED TO DENTISTRY.

OFFICE: Smith Building, Main Street,
Office hours, from 12:00 M.; 1:00 to
4:00 P.M.

J. C. MORGAN, D. D. S.

OFFICE: Main street, over Madison National Bank, Richmond, Ky.
June 21st

DR. J. M. POYNTZ,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

OFFICE: Second street, next to White's Drug Store.

G. W. EVANS, M. D.,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

OFFICE: Second street.

June 21st

DRS TAYLOR & ASHE,

Practitioners in Medicine and Surgery.

RICHMOND, KY.

OFFICE: Second street, over Dykes
Grocery Store.

June 21st

DR. JOHN M. FOSTER,

MAIN STREET,

Next door to Luxon's—Up Stairs.

Residence at Cor. Madison and Telephone
Avens June 21st

DR. PHIL ROBERTS

Offices professional services in the offices of Dr. C. W. Walker in the at-

Dr. U. C. AMBROSE,

PHYSICIAN

FORT, KY.

Offices professional services to the at-

W. T. SEASMITT, M. D.,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

At the Hall, Ky.

Offices professional services to the at-

J. F. CORNELISON,

RICHMOND, KENTUCKY.

Practicing Physician, a

and professional services to the at-

D. S. M. LETCHER,

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEON.

At the Hall, Ky.

H. W. BRIGHT, M. D.,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

RICHMOND, KY.

Offices in Smith Building on Main

Street.

Special attention given to Miasmas and

Chemical examinations of urines and fluids of the human body.

June 21st.

D. R. C. S. HOLTON,

Hospital Physician and Surgeon,

RICHMOND, KENTUCKY.

Office, Main Street, over D. M. Bright's.

Office hours, 8:30 to 11:00 A. M., 1:00 to

4:00 P.M.

Special attention given to diseases of women and all difficult chronic cases.

Patients treated at a distance, and

Homeopathic medicines sent to any address.

DR. H. R. GIBSON,

Practitioner in Medicine & Surgery

115 RED HOUSE, KY.

DR. T. J. FAIN,

UNION CITY, KY.

Offers his professional services to the public. Office at Powell's store.

12.

PARRISH & TURNER,

Attorneys at Law,

RICHMOND, KY.

Special attention given to abstracto-

bills to hand in Eastern Kentucky.

Office in CLIMAX building, 8th

floor, and Second Street.

June 21st.

J. A. SULLIVAN,

Attorney at Law,

RICHMOND, KY.

Offices on First street, same as

previously occupied by County Judge

Wells.

13.

C. S. POWELL,

Attorney at Law,

RICHMOND, KY.

Offices on Second Street. June 21st

W. S. MOBERLEY,

Attorney at Law,

RICHMOND, KY.

Office corner Main and First Streets.

June 21st.

SPEED SMITH, CHAS. S. POWELL

SMITH & POWELL,

Fire Insurance!

We represent all the strongest

Insurance Companies in the world; we represent the company that has the largest capital, the largest paid capital, the largest assets, the only company that pays its losses without exception, the only company that never makes you wait six or seven days for a fire to get your money. We offer the lowest rates given by any company.

SMITH & POWELL

Best Cough Cure.

For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, no remedy is so specific, speedy, and certain as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. An indispensable family medicine.

OFFICE: Smith Building, Main Street, Office hours, from 12:00 M.; 1:00 to 4:00 P.M.

J. C. MORGAN, D. D. S.

OFFICE: Main street, over Madison National Bank, Richmond, Ky. June 21st

DR. J. M. POYNTZ,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

OFFICE: Second street, next to White's Drug Store.

JUNE 21ST

G. W. EVANS, M. D.,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

OFFICE: Second street.

JUNE 21ST

DR. JOHN M. FOSTER,

MAIN STREET,

Next door to Luxon's—Up Stairs.

Residence at Cor. Madison and Telephone Avens, June 21st

DR. PHIL ROBERTS

Offices professional services in the

offices of Dr. C. W. Walker in the at-

DR. U. C. AMBROSE,

PHYSICIAN

FORT, KY.

Offices professional services to the at-

W. T. SEASMITT, M. D.,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

At the Hall, Ky.

Offices professional services to the at-

J. F. CORNELISON,

RICHMOND, KENTUCKY.

Practicing Physician, a

and professional services to the at-

D. S. M. LETCHER,

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEON.

At the Hall, Ky.

H. W. BRIGHT, M. D.,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

RICHMOND, KY.

Offices in Smith Building on Main

Street.

Special attention given to Miasmas and

Chemical examinations of

urines and fluids of the human body.

June 21st.

D. R. C. S. HOLTON,

Hospital Physician and Surgeon,

RICHMOND, KENTUCKY.

Office, Main Street, over D. M. Bright's.

Office hours, 8:30 to 11:00 A. M., 1:00 to

4:00 P.M.

Special attention given to diseases of women and all difficult chronic cases.

Patients treated at a distance, and

Homeopathic medicines sent to any address.

DR. H. R. GIBSON,

Practitioner in Medicine & Surgery

115 RED HOUSE, KY.

DR. T. J. FAIN,

UNION CITY, KY.

Offers his professional services to the public. Office at Powell's store.

12.

PARRISH & TURNER,

Attorneys at Law,

RICHMOND, KY.

Special attention given to abstracto-

bills to hand in Eastern Kentucky.

Office in CLIMAX building, 8th

floor, and Second Street.

June 21st.

J. A. SULLIVAN,

Attorney at Law,

RICHMOND, KY.

Offices on First street, same as

previously occupied by County Judge

Wells.

13

THE CLIMAX.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY

—BY THE

CLIMAX PRINTING CO.

FRENCH TIPTON, — EDITORS.

Wm. G. WHITE,

PRICE PER YEAR, $1.50.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20, 1889

ANOTHER NEWSPAPER.

A circular from Messrs. Thos. H. Fox & Co. of Mt. Sterling, announces that they purpose establishing in their town a "genuine Democratic newspaper," to be devoted first, to the educational and material development of the city and county; second, to the agricultural and manufacturing and mining interests of this section of the country; third, to the interest of the Democratic party in its relation to the county, State and Federal government.

We hope that the new paper, The News, may meet with unbounded success, but Mr. Sterling must grow a little before three newspapers in it can prosper like a cow in clover. The Sentinel Democrat and the Gazette have firm holds, and it will require some shaking to shake them. But the more the merrier.

AFTER THE GRAND JURY.

The New Orleans Times-Democrat enters a protest against mob law:

The grand jury of Iberia parish has refused to find a true bill against the persons implicated in the late troubles there. It is not denied that the troubles occurred, that two men were lynched, a number of others whipped and run out of the parish. There does not seem to be any difficulty in finding who the parties were engaged in this lawlessness, and the testimony adduced before the Mayor in the investigation conducted by the Attorney General disclosed a number of them. Yet, notwithstanding this, notwithstanding the very strong charge of Justice Judge Mouton, in which he called the attention of the grand jury to the democratization and iniquity resulting from the encouragement or palliation of mob law, the grand jury has refused to find a single indictment. If there was any doubt as to the facts, or as to a number of the persons engaged in these disturbances, such a report might be excused; but there is none. It is simply an approval of the acts of the mob.

The grand jury of Iberia has proclaimed that if certain citizens in that parish wish to override the law, if they wish to whip, kill or banish objectionable persons, and instead of going to it, break it and appeal to Judge Lynch, they will escape all punishment therefor. It could have done nothing worse for its hero. It could not have advertised that parish to worse aduersaries before the whole world, in the name of Louisiana and of law, we protest against the declaration just made by the Iberia grand jury that lawlessness, mob rule and lynch law should go unpunished. If that idea is current there is current nowhere else in Louisiana.

OUR HAPPY SOULS.

The Washington Star relates a momentous incident in connection with Congressman McReary:

A Congressman's mind is no interesting study. It isn't entirely made up of indiscretions, demands for favors, documents, and demands for fees. Now and then there is a romance concealed in it. Big-hearted Gov. McCreary, of Kentucky, has just been the means of making three people very happy. It came about this way:

Not long ago he received a letter from a lady in New Jersey. The writer was evidently a woman of refinement and good education. She told the Congressman that a Kentucky lady had recently been visiting her and happened to mention Governor McCreary's name had taken the liberty to write to him. McCreary's correspondent was a widow with one son, so was his visitor, and learning that the Governor had only one son she was inclined to think he would all the more gladly listen to her appeal. Her boy, the writer went on to say, was engaged to be married to a very charming girl. The engagement was surrounded by both families, and as the boy's mother was comfortably well off, she looked forward with great pleasure to her son marrying and settling down. But the young people had a lover's tiff, the engagement was broken off, and at a fit of pique and sadness he enlisted as a private in the army. The girl was heartbroken, and the mother was distressed at the thought of the hardships her boy would have to endure, and would Mr. McCreary not help his innocence to have her son discharged?

The Governor went over to the war department and laid the case before the Adjutant Gen. Drury. That functionary was disposed to do anything in the matter. Of course this Adjutant General couldn't be expected to take a very lively interest in the woes of an ordinary, every day private. General Drury got behind a rolled-up tape and a copy of the Revised Statutes, and showed that it couldn't be done. But Mr. McCreary told the general that the regiments of the arch wouldn't fall if the strength of the United States army was reduced by one man, that the happiness of three people depended on his decision, and that it would be a great deal better to discharge the foolish young man, who heartily regretted his folly, than to keep him an unwilling prisoner with the chances against his ever making a good soldier. These arguments were too much for General, and he graciously capitulated. Secretary Endicott, always willing to do a kind action heartily approved of the general's action, and Gov. McCreary had the satisfaction of being able to write his New Jersey correspondent that her son would be discharged as soon as the necessary papers could be made out.

LATER—Gov. McCreary has just received an invitation to attend a wedding in New Jersey, to take place in the near future. If the work of the extra session permits it he will attend.

UNITED STATES SENATE

SPECIAL SESSION.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Mr. Beck appeared in the Senate chamber yesterday and took his seat in the upper gallery during the Senatorial term. He was welcomed hand warmly by his brother Senators and by the officers and members of the Senate. His arrival was a signal event, marking the beginning of recent interest. For over a quarter of an hour there was movement made to proceed to a formal business, and then a request for presentation of executive nominations. On the motion of Mr. Beck the following resolutions were adopted: "That the Senate, by a unanimous vote, adjourn until 12 o'clock noon on Friday, the 15th instant." The resolution was carried by a vote of 73 to 1. The Senate adjourned at 1:10 P.M. The doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, in Switzerland, of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States, to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and a member of the Executive Session to consider the same. At 1:10 P.M. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The continued absence of the Vice-President Mr. Ingalls caused a stir yesterday as to what other steps would be taken by the Senate in the meantime. The papers in the case of Louis L. Davis, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of

THE CLIMAX.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20, 1889.

The tobacco factory is coming.

It is said water-works will be built by private subscription.

A business man tells us that business has been better in Richmond this spring, than he ever knew it to be.

Messy Buchanan & Greenleaf have received an exceedingly handsome horse and a carriage, and have a new pair of horses.

The first train on the R. N. I. & B. came through Richmond yesterday. It was a train of sulky scrapers, and the longest one ever seen in this country.

Bourbon Chief, "the finest jack in the world," is announced in this issue by W. J. & J. S. Collins. Read his pedigree and terms, and see if you can do any better.

Couington, Arnold & Bros. have sold thirteen hundred bushels of clover seed, since Friday last—the largest sale of clover seed ever made in Richmond by one house in a season.

Messy Donelson & Rodabaugh have rented the large store-house on Main street, next to Fox's stable, for a carriage warroom, and have it filled with beautiful work.

Heavy blasting is daily heard down at Shanahan & Powell's camp on the R. N. I. & B. and men and machinery continue to arrive by every train. A party of forty-seven men arrived yesterday.

Couington & Mitchell the extensive mercantile tailors and clothiers come to the front, this week, with a column announcement. They have a choice lot of the latest ideas in goods and mean to sell them.

Sam Willis, of Pine Grove, and Dr. B. Willis, of Lexington, came over on Friday to see their brother, Mr. David B. Willis, of Kirkville, who has been seriously ill for some time, and grew worse last week.

Another Sale of Real Estate.

Mr. H. P. Pigg sold to C. H. Figg one-half of the J. M. Pigg property on the Lexington pike for $1,750.

Yazoo.

This well-known blooded horse is set forth in another column. His services have heretofore been duly appreciated, and Messy Burnam & Co. will no doubt reap a rich reward this season.

Egalite.

The card of Egalite appears in this issue of THE CLIMAX. He is a popular and excellent horse and in reliable hands—J. B. Chenuaut & Co. The price is reasonable and a good patronage will be the result.

Book-Keeping.

T. F. Lear, the famous teacher of double entry book-keeping, is getting up a night class. He has taught here several times before, and refers to a few of his former pupils, who are practical book-keepers, via: S. P. Detharage, J. S. Collins, D. B. Shadcock, L. P. Sanders, W. D. Oldham, G. W. Pickle and M. G. Y. Forman.

Big Trade in Oats and Flours.

We are informed by the seedmen, that since the first of January, eleven thousand bushels of seed oats have been sold in Richmond, and the plow men tell us that nearly four hundred plows have been sold to date. This is certainly an unusually large quantity and shows that the farmers are preparing to meet the boom. Clover seed in proportion.

Turnpike Extension.

The survey was completed last week, for the building of the Stony Run and Ford turnpike, and the contract is soon to be let. This road is an extension of the Richmond and Outer Creek turnpike, and will fill the gap between Richmond and Winchester, making the distance turnpike much shorter. Mr. Brutus J. Clay is President.

Change in Stage Schedule.

On next Monday week, April 1st, the Richmond and Irvine stage will leave Richmond at 7:30 o'clock, P. M., and reach Irvine at 8 o'clock. Returning, will leave Irvine at 7 o'clock, A. M., and reach Richmond at 11:30 o'clock. Passengers, mail and express carried. The office will continue in Gormley & Co.'s shop, corner Main and Second streets. The mail will open and after April 1st close at one o'clock.

The Finest Yet.

Last week is said to have been the most beautiful weather ever known for the month of March, in this country. In fact, the entire month so far, has been one of unusual mildness and beauty. We recall, however, the spring of '68—twenty years ago—which was delightful up to near the first of May, when a snow came and weighed down the trees, like mid-winter, the ground being as large as a silver dollar. We recall that later along on the 16th of May, a hard cut down vegetation of every kind, including the leaves of the forest trees, was a wise old saying—"don't holler till you get out of the woods."

They Got The Charr.

Bids were opened at Owingsville on last Thursday for the building of a $10,000 church by the Christian denomination, and the contract was awarded to Eason & Wiggins, proprietors of the Richmond Planing Mill. This certainly speaks well for these gentlemen. They are now rebuilding the court house at Pineville, recently built the Witherspoon mansion in Winchester, and have awarded the contract for erecting the college, which place so soon as the court shall have decided the question. Judge Morton, of the Circuit Court, on Wednesday, decided the college question in favor of Winchester. Eason & Wiggins have much other work in progress.

Circuit Court.

The March term of the Circuit Court convened on Monday. In the absence of Judge Morton, Senator John Bennett was elected temporary Judge, and is presiding with a much dignity and firmness as the regular Judge. Mr. C. J. Bromont represents the Commonwealth. There are 145 criminal and 95 other cases.

Grand Jury.

Grand Jury: S. H. Stone, Foreman; Robt. Covington, J. W. Smith, A. B. Shearer, T. W. Miller, Leontine Ballard, Thomas, W. H. Sale, W. C. Talbot, D. C. Mundy, W. O. Thorpe, J. W. Evans, Joe Geary, Thos Phelps, D. M. Bright, W. G. Harris.

Petit Jury: A. K. Lewis, Stanford Oldham, J. W. Green, S. H. Harber, Sam Rice, J. C. Scott, W. A. Barron, David Chenuaut, Jas. H. Barbour, George Myers, W. H. Harber, Dan Harber, D. C. Doty, W. K. Oldham, J. E. Dickey, Wm. Arnold, T. J. Jones, J. J. Dickey, Wm. Gregors, G. W. Green.

A Quarter of a Century at One Church.

Elder J. W. Hardin, of Winchester, came over Friday to preach at Flat Woods on Saturday and Sunday. This is the Elder's twenty-third year as pastor of that church, or nearly a quarter of a century, that he has labored in that particular locality of the Lord's vineyard. But the chances are good for another quarter of valuable service. The flock tire not of their shepherd, nor does the shepherd weary in well-doing. Elder Hardin is past three score and five years, but is nearly as able and equally as eager to continue the good fight, as in his younger days. His mother is now living at the great age of 86 years. His grandmother was the even greater age of 88, and his great-grandfather attained the truly marvelous age of 110 years.

He Got There.

A letter from Capt. George W. Tilston relates that he has reached the West Indies, after a stormy and protracted voyage of 21 days, twelve days of which was out of sight of land. This is the Captain's fourth trip to the sunny Isles.

He found his temporary successor mentally and physically out of balance, and the property in a greatly demoralized condition. He at once shipped his suffering friend back to "State," and went about repairing damages and getting the force in working order. The thermometer, he writes, was 85 degrees, on his arrival which is unusually high. He promises in a future letter to give a full account of his voyage, and we shall take the liberty of giving it to the readers of THE CLIMAX.

Sale of Jarks.

Mr. Leonidas Duvall, of Richmond, Mo., was here last week and bought the following jacks which were shipped on Friday: Of T. E. Baldwin, one at $50; of W. H. Herndon, one at $30; of I. Shelby Irvine, two at $1,300; of J. W. Baughman, Lincoln county, four at $1,950.

Mr. H. H. Colyer, who recently took a lot of jacks to Missouri, has returned. He sold the animals for good prices and made money. This transaction demonstrates that Mr. Colyer is a universal trader, for he has handled horses, cattle, sheep, dogs, coonkins, tobacco, wheat, and other small grains, corn, cotton and sorghum molasses, and has proven himself successful in all these branches. He is now ready to buy anything that is for sale, and to pay the cash for it.

Steam Laundry.

Messrs. B. J. Clay and D. R. Forman have purchased a building for a steam laundry, and as soon as a site can be secured, the building will be erected and machinery put in place.

A steam laundry in Richmond is an experiment, but the evidences are strong that it will pay. The people of Richmond and vicinity send away weekly to Lexington, Louisville, Cincinnati and Dayton quantities of laundry work, besides paying out large sums at home for washing.

In Chattanooga we found Dr. J. J. Ashbaugh just moved into his new residence on East 9th street. It is located on an eminence where a fortification stood during the war and is conspicuously in view from all parts of the city, even from the summit of far away Lookout Mountain.

The entire interior finish of the house is the handiwork of the Doctor and is a recognized genius. It goes with the rest of the house, neat and trim, and is a good companion to the residence of Dr. Martin Curtis continues at 17 Techoupiouette street, and judging from his round person, beaming face and good clothes, is doing a good commission business. He said his brother Will was in Louisville, Ed in Denver, Al in Mississippi, and Tom in West Virginia, and if there were more brothers, still more States would be occupied.

At the depot in Birmingham, we were told that Mr. W. J. Owens and James McAdie, Theodore Hacker and Henry James were prosperous in that thriving town.

They are prompt in fulfilling every contract entered into, and are polite and accommodating to everyone with whom they come in contact, either socially or in a business matter. They are men of integrity, who do business on business principles.

These gentlemen have never had any issue with the State. They have paid their rental promptly as their contract provided, although they were deprived of the use of one of the main buildings in the prison since it was destroyed by fire in 1857. It was a very lucky day for the State when this corporation leased the prison. They have done more than any other firm or corporation to develop the resources of Kentucky.

They have invested their money in every enterprise that intended the development of mines, railroads and other public improvements throughout the State. They have entirely changed the whole penitentiary system in Kentucky. They have driven out the manufacture of hemp, which was certain death to all who worked in this department, and in its stead have been placed establishments for the manufacture of shoes, brooms and chairs, the labor in which is healthful to the convalescent.

The institution is clean throughout, and an air of purity surrounds the whole atmosphere. The men are not overworked, and they seem satisfied with the labor they are required to perform.

They purchase all the timber required in their business from our people, for which they pay the highest market price.

Col. Hoge and Capt. Mason have purchased farms in our county, and have made their homes with us. They have also purchased city property and improved it. They are among our best and most enterprising citizens, and have added much to the prosperity and advancement of our city, county and State.

Mr. Barnes, several years ago a popular agent of the Kentucky Central in Richmond, has been located in Chattanooga ever since he left here, and is now in the employ of the E. T. V. and G., who would not exchange him for any other man in Tennessee.

Albertart, the painter, is adorning houses with porcelain and other artistic signs.

At Glendale, Tenn., we asked as the train slowed up, "where is John Farley?" "Over at the mines," replied a small colored boy. "Minden watches." "Does he ever come here to the station?" "No, sah, often—he's afraid." "Afraid of what?" "Afraid he'll git on the giong and go back to Kentucky—he says it's powerful winnin' up that way."

They'll Be Kickers.

The time is coming apace and drawing near, when Richmond's new and elegant hotel will be open to the public. But all the people who patronize hotels will not rush pull-mill into this one, no matter what its appointments may be, for it's pricing a little above the ordinary, will keep away two classes of people—first, those who are two stingy and second, those who are too poor. They will not go silently on their way elsewhere and let the new hotel alone in its glory, but pretend a vast dash. They'll kick, and kavort, and kiss, and say that there is no style about the proprietor, and little more about the building; that the furniture is poorly selected, the pantry bad and the cooking insipid. In fact that the new hotel is "too far from Foxton"—nearly a whole square further than the other hotel, and therefore they'll take the nearest. But the new hotel will nevertheless prosper, and as it is a human being's inalienable right to kick, and as kicking embraces more or less of that element called human nature, we can but exclaim with the Psalmist, "Le'm r'ip."

Two Great Companies.

Mr. J. F. Stone has returned from a visit to his brother in Cincinnati.

Mrs. A. J. Reed, of Louisville, is here, and seems to be progressing indeed.

Rev. C. J. Wingate will deliver a lecture at Mt. Sterling next Wednesday.

Miss Lizzie Wherrett has returned from the winter's stay at Vickburg, Mississippi.

Miss Isela French is temporarily at home from school at Cynthiana, her eyes giving her slight trouble.

Congressman McCleary and wife and son, Mr. Robert McCleary, have reached home from a tour of the South.

Rev. J. L. Wills and wife left on Monday for Bloomington, Ill., to see the sister of the latter who is low with consumption.

Mrs. Procter, of Russell county, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cornelison, for weeks, has gone home.

J. F. Crockett, Wichita; E. C. Johnson, H. C. Loveland, Lexington; W. F. T. Taborn, Louisville; W. J. Walsh, Covington; Alexander Campbell, W. Va.; Dr. S. W. Willis, Pine Grove; J. H. Beatty, Beattyville; George H. Lockhart, Paris, were registered at Madison Club the past week.

Progress of the New Madison County Fair Company.

The Fair Company assembled on last Saturday, and after a short session arrived at perfect understanding with the owners of the grounds and amphitheatre, Evans and Brooks, and the deed was drawn up and signed. Evans and Brooks retained a part of the grounds fronting on Irvine street and running back 200 feet. The Company get the remainder at $1,500 divided into one hundred and fifty-five shares, while the above-said owners retain fifty-five shares, having, therefore, a controlling interest. This sale shows that Richmond real estate has advanced considerably within the past year.

Their headquarters are in this city, where all communications should be addressed.

This firm or company employ annually, in addition to the convicts worked in railroad construction, from twenty-five hundred to four thousand free laborers, most of which are compelled to bring from Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia and Alabama, so that the convict labor constitutes a very small part of the number of men to whom they give employment.

THE MASON, GOOCH AND HOPE CO.

Messrs. C. E. Hoge, Wm. F. Dandridge, John King, H. P. Mason and S. D. Goode propose the formation of a company to build railroads, bridges and other public improvements throughout the State.

Miss Lizzie Wherrett has returned from the winter's stay at Vickburg, Mississippi.

Miss Isela French is temporarily at home from school at Cynthiana, her eyes giving her slight trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cornelison, for weeks, have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Procter, of Russell county.

Rev. C. J. Wingate will deliver a lecture at Mt. Sterling next Wednesday.

Miss Lizzie Wherrett has returned from the winter's stay at Vickburg, Mississippi.

Miss Isela French is temporarily at home from school at Cynthiana, her eyes giving her slight trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cornelison, for weeks, have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Procter, of Russell county.

Rev. C. J. Wingate will deliver a lecture at Mt. Sterling next Wednesday.

Miss Lizzie Wherrett has returned from the winter's stay at Vickburg, Mississippi.

Miss Isela French is temporarily at home from school at Cynthiana, her eyes giving her slight trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cornelison, for weeks, have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Procter, of Russell county.

Rev. C. J. Wingate will deliver a lecture at Mt. Sterling next Wednesday.

Miss Lizzie Wherrett has returned from the winter's stay at Vickburg, Mississippi.

Miss Isela French is temporarily at home from school at Cynthiana, her eyes giving her slight trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cornelison, for weeks, have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Procter, of Russell county.

Rev. C. J. Wingate will deliver a lecture at Mt. Sterling next Wednesday.

Miss Lizzie Wherrett has returned from the winter's stay at Vickburg, Mississippi.

Miss Isela French is temporarily at home from school at Cynthiana, her eyes giving her slight trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cornelison, for weeks, have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Procter, of Russell county.

Rev. C. J. Wingate will deliver a lecture at Mt. Sterling next Wednesday.

Miss Lizzie Wherrett has returned from the winter's stay at Vickburg, Mississippi.

Miss Isela French is temporarily at home from school at Cynthiana, her eyes giving her slight trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cornelison, for weeks, have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Procter, of Russell county.

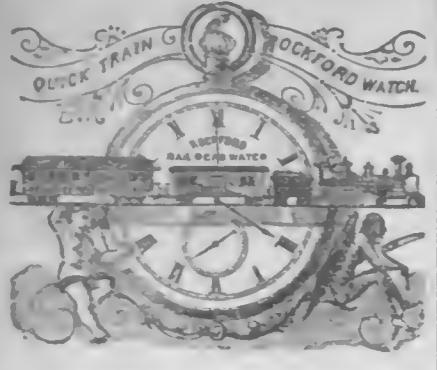

Rev. C. J. Wingate will deliver a lecture at Mt. Sterling next Wednesday.

Miss Lizzie Wherrett has returned from the winter's stay at Vickburg, Mississippi.

Miss Isela French is temporarily at home from school at Cynthiana, her eyes giving her slight trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cornelison, for weeks, have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Procter, of Russell

A.D.RUFF,

WATCHMAKER & JEWELER.

DEALER IN

Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silver and Plated-ware, etc. Special attention given to

ETTING DIAMONDS

AND OTHER PRECIOUS STONES

REPAIRING

Promptly done and in a workmanlike manner.

Cash Paid for Old Gold and Silver.

Don't forget the place—next door to the Post-office, Rich-mond, Ky.

Jan 11.

GANTER'S CHICKEN S Cholera Cure!

Thousands of dollars worth of chickens die every year from Cholera. It is the natural death of all other diseases combined. But the discovery of a remedy that positively cures it has been made, and to be convinced of its efficacy only requires a trial. A 5-cent bottle is enough for one hundred chickens. It is guaranteed. If, after using two-thirds of a bottle, the buyer is not thoroughly satisfied with it as a cure for Chicken Cholera, return it to the undersigned and your money will be refunded.

1945 STOCKTON & WILLIS.

Dobbin's Electric Soap

THE BEST FAMILY SOAP

IN THE WORLD.

It is strictly pure, uniform in quality.

It is a great saving of time, labor, soap, water, and fuel, and where Dobbin's Soap is used, there is no waste.

It is well demonstrated in Germany, France, Italy, and other countries.

It is the best soap for washing clothes.

It is extremely inexpensive.

It is the best soap for washing clothes.

It is the